

Residential Treatment Program

Promesa Behavioral Health has been in the business of helping children for over twenty-five years. Promesa operates Level 12 Residential Treatment Programs for both female and male clients between the ages of twelve to seventeen from counties all over the State of California. We offer specialty programs that include a male Sex Offenders program and a Pregnant and Parenting Teen Program in addition to our traditional Adolescent Behavior Modification programs. Our treatment facilities provide 24 hour care by teams of qualified Child Care Workers. Our overnight staff remains awake and accessible to our clients.

Clients are placed through Department of Children and Family Services and Juvenile Probation. We also accept placement through the Adoptions Assistance Programs (AAP).

We provide shelter and therapeutic care to children who have been neglected, abandoned, and physically, emotionally or sexually abused.

Residential Treatment Program

Our number one goal in our program is to provide clients with a safe and secure environment with responsible and trustworthy staff members, who assist them on their road to wellness.

Our clients are held accountable through a structured daily milieu which encourages and rewards positive behaviors. Many clients are able to graduate within a few months and others require more intensive care. We work with each client to move towards a permanent place to call home.

Promesa Behavioral Health accepts youth between the ages of twelve through seventeen from counties all over the state of California.
